At the Ranger Rendezvous in July the 2nd Bn won 16 of the events they participated in so anyone wishing to compete better be in shape! Col. McCrystal has promised us the time of our lives and he is a man of his word. Shown below are a few of the events that we may participate in: PT Challenge (Sit ups, Push ups, 10K run). Tug of War. Litter Race, Triathlon, Golf, Handball, Horseshoes and others. Details will follow in the next issue of PATROLLING. TOM SOVE (Reunion Chairman)

LETTERS

LONG RANGE RECON LEADERS COURSE

Ranger Bobby Ethridge F/50 LRP was the guest speaker at the graduation ceremony in August 1995. Bobby told the students about a mission where the team was mostly wounded and of the efforts to retrieve the team after a long firefight. The Commander of the RTB, Col. Jackman told us that the story Bobby told them is very appropriate and that the Rangers and the LRSU leaders need to know that all missions are not just Fame and Glory. Bobby did a great job and the association thanks him for his time and interest. DUKE DuSHANE

A GOOD RANGER & CITIZEN

This afternoon I was riding my Harley here in Oklahoma City and I was stopped by seven police cars. They had their lights on and sirens blaring, so being a good citizen and being outnumbered, I pulled over and stopped. The lead car pulls up behind me and out steps Jim Long, N/75. They are in town this week for a dog handlers competition. I am now the enviable holder of the record for being stopped by the most police at one time. I was stopped in front of the local biker bar "Scooters" and have become a local hero to the patrons. Jim and I will be having dinner this week and we'll be talking about you. CARL BALDWIN N/75 Eds Note: Carl wears a two ft. by 1 ft. N/75 scroll on the back of his leather jacket and is highly visible. Carl & Jim served together on the same team. Hope you and Jim had a great time.

MARY J. McISAAC (Deceased)

I cannot tell you how touched I was when I read M.J.'s letter in the September issue of PATROLLING. We were camping and having a super time with our little girl, and friends when M.J. was stricken. We all knew that her time was near, but not as near as it was. DAN McISAAC 1/101 LRRP Mary died in her sleep and at peace on Sunday morning (10 Sept) at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston. She had battled cancer for 3 1/2 years. Mary leaves her husband Dan and her daughter, Mary Francis, who will start Kindergarten this month. M.J. requested that donations be made in lieu of flowers. See Below for address. The association sent a donation and we request that any member(s) wishing to donate in her memory do the same. The association expresses it's condolences to the McIsaac family, she was obviously a special lady.

CHRISTMAS EVE 1968

A LRP's Remembrance

*Twas the night before Christmas, and through War Zone
"D"*

*LRP's painted their faces, in dark drab and green.
The First Shirt was sleeping, and the troops all alone
The E-5's were drinking, cause they weren't going home.
When out on the berm, shots rang out like a clatter
I jumped from my bunk, to see what was the matter.
Threw open the screen door, I'd grabbed all my cash slipped in the mud, and fell flat on my ass.
The lights from the flares, on the newly soaked ground gave a whore house luster, except for the sound
To what to my wondering eyes, should appear
"Phycho" and Frazier, were drinking my beer.
The First Shirt arrived, and he carried a stick
We knew in a moment, he wasn't St. Nick
His eyes didn't twinkle, his dimples not merry
his cheeks were like steel, the !SG was no cherry.
More rapid than bullets, his curses they came he wistled and shouted, and called us by name.
"On Ford on Foreman, get out of the bunker Move your ass now!", His voice was like thunder.
"On Defer on Carter, to the wire with no gripe Move your ass now, or I'll cut of your stripes"
He gave me the finger, pressed up to his nose
Then out the back door of the hootch, he did stroll.
I heard him exclaim, as he marched out of sight
"Piss to you all, on this hell of a night."*

RANGER MEMORIAL STONES

The following members, teammates or family have recently purchased memorial bricks for the walkway of the Ranger Memorial at Ft. Benning, GA. Stones are still available and the cost is $240.00. This is a great way to honor our fallen comrades as well as a chance to be remembered by our families and friends. Contact your unit director or the secretary for an application. DAVID FLANNERY K/75, KEVIN MAYER P/75, RAYMOND REEVES 74TH LRP, ERNEST MARTINEZ 74TH LRRP, DAN MCISAAC 1/101 LRRP. The address for the forms has been changed to: Ranger Memorial Foundation, PO Box 53369, Ft. Benning GA 31995-3369 (Ph: 706-687-0906) Company P (Ranger), 75th Inf is currently trying to raise the money to buy all of their KIA's Ranger Memorial Stones. A great project and the association wishes them the best on their project.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The association will elect new officers for the 1996 - 1998 term during the reunion in June. Members desiring to serve the membership as officers of the association should contact the president in writing as soon as possible. The offices of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer will be up for election. Additionally the individual units should conduct their own election process and inform the association who the unit representative/director will be for the 1996 - 1998 period. None of the positions mentioned are figurehead positions and require numerous hours of work and dedication by the individual who assumes the office. At this time, Rick Ehrler has made known his desire to run for the office of president. Questions or comments should be directed to the President or secretary.

101ST LRSU GUEST SPEAKER

Mike Martin V Corps LRRP and BDQ, will be the guest speaker at the upcoming 101st LRSU get together at the Double Tree Inn in Nashville, TN on 16 December. The association is very proud of all the members who have given of their time to help foster the goals of our association and pass on the lessons learned to the active duty units that carry our lineage and honors. SECRETARY

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

This time of year brings mixed emotions and feelings to all who served in Vietnam. What should be a time of joy is often rift with mixed feelings of anger and foreboding, fights and fears, tension and stress. If you are feeling down take the time to call a former teammate or another association member. Remember that all is not as dark as it seems. Speaking of remembering..... Christmas in Vietnam. I was all of 20 years of age and for the first time away from home at Christmas in 1967. I had been in the LRRP and now LRP since October and not really looking forward to spending Christmas in the base camp with time on my hands to think about what I was to miss at home. My team had been in over Thanksgiving and the meal the Army served was first class, with shrimp, turkey and all the goodies. Perhaps the same thing would happen at Christmas. Bob Hope would surely bring some fun and diversion on Christmas Day to Bear Cat. On the morning of Christmas eve my team was alerted to be prepared to insert at last light that day. We were going to fly through the Air in our sled of steel, known affectionately as a Huey, and leap down to the LZ, since there was no chimney in sight, or any place in all of Vietnam. I mean what would you need a chimney for. That meant a stove and more heat. Come to think of it there probably was one in some REMF spot, like Long Bien. You know, the Air Conditioner is on too high, light the stove to warm the old hooch up a bit. (Probably a genius in G-2.). Just like five Santa's, but all in camo and heavily enough armed to wipe out the North Pole and all the miserable little northern, Hostile-type elves in it, if necessary, we prepared for insertion. It seemed that some genius in G-2 ("The same one with the stove") had figured out that those same elves might be moving supplies down the various bunny (OOPS...wrong holiday) trails and they needed the Santa's from Hell to monitor those trails, just in case those elves decided to break the truce. We inserted (continued) on a trace and moved quickly to set up for the night. In moving to our night location we crossed several well worn and heavily used trails. We set up in a bamboo thicket and settled down for our short winters nap. Sometime around 0 dark-thirty the sounds of Ox carts and those elf voices could be heard moving along the trail. We were very close, about 5 or 10 meters off the trail that they decided to use that night to move their Goodies to the other northern hostile-type elves nestled snug in their beds in Saigon. As luck would have it one of the team members, still sound asleep, decided to punctuate the pregnant silence with a well timed and loud (sure sounded loud in that quiet jungle night) snore. As his head was close to mine I quickly placed my hand over his mouth and to my surprise found several other hands already there. This noise naturally attracted the attention of the Hostile-type elves and one came quickly to see what the hell was going on. In the gray of that jungle early morning I could make him out standing directly at my feet with his weapon at port arms and looking about very slowly. There was a few bamboo between he and I and he could move no further. After what seemed like forever he left and returned to the trail where, after some discussion which must have centered around what type of animal makes that unholy sound, the ox carts started moving again. With the resumption of noise on the trail my team leader leaned over to me and stared: "Barley, if he comes back again put one round through his head and we will dede." I didn't have the heart to tell him that I wasn't that good a shot and that if he did return and we had to fire it would sound like that little war had become WW II. I figured that maybe all the noise would cause the other elves to have heart attacks. Hey, if you have all that firepower why not use it? If you use it you don't have to carry it. We spent five more days watching the ox carts go by and were extracted on New Years eve. I'll never forget that Christmas eve and day in Vietnam and perhaps I received a wonderful present that night in that I did not have to waste an elf on that particular day. Let us be thankful for what we have. ROY BARLEY

OLD UGLY RANGERS STILL JUMPING

On 30 September 1995, an Airborne Assault on an LZ in Bushnell, Florida, was accomplished by 5 Rangers from the 75th Ranger Regiment, along with a former member of a Marine Recon unit in Vietnam, his son-in-law, and the son of one of the Rangers involved. The mission had a threefold objective. One, to have fun! Secondly, to get two of the Rangers, Airborne qualified. Last, but not least, to show that Rangers from different companies could work together, after so many years, and still accomplish their mission, even with a Marine involved. Rangers, Richard Ehrler (Association V.P. and Co. E (LRP) 50th Inf., Douglas Keim (A/75th-Co. D (LRRP) 17th Inf.), Terry Roderick (P/75th-A/75th-Co. D (LRRP) 17th Inf.), Frank Rhodes (P/75th), and Ross Quamoccia (G/75th) were the Rangers involved. Our friend, Richard Hunt, is a Marine Recon Vietnam veteran, who also brought his son-in-law Steve, along on the mission. Ross's son, R.M., accompanied his father, to complete our "heavy team" Rangers Ehrler and Rhodes were making their "cherry" blasts, and showed no signs of apprehension during the whole mission.....NOT !!!! Both performed beautifully, and were awarded the Army parachutist badge, by the other Airborne qualified personnel present. I might add that Richard Hunt was so moved by Ehrler's HALO entrance to the LZ, that he also presented Ehrler with a set of Navy jump wings. Hunt and Ehrler made HALO insertions, from 14,000 feet, to the LZ to secure it for the 8 man team that was to follow in two separate flights. Shortly after the LZ had been secured, Ranger Quamoccio, his point man R.M., and tail gunner, Steve made their exits from 4000 feet, and all safely landed. Soon thereafter, Keim, Rhodes, and Roderick found their way down from the Cessna 182, to the LZ, to link up with the rest of the team, already on the ground. Since there were only "friendlies" on the ground, the Ranger team decided to "Charley Mike", for now, and will be trying to "hook up" again in the near future. There is a vicious rumor circulating that Ehrler, was put into a wind tunnel and never "broke his cherry", but he has some fairly reputable witnesses that he did, indeed, "break his cherry". When Ehrler got wind of this possible mission through the P/75th news magazine, he got on the phone and made arrangements to fly from his home, in Boise, Idaho, to join the other Rangers for the mission. For those of you who haven't had the joy and privilege to know Rick, you might be interested to know that he was blinded by an RPG in 1969, while serving as a team leader in Co. E (LRP) 50th Inf., attached to the 9th Div. Rick has also been seen snow skiing, riding bicycles at speeds exceeding 50 MPH, and exiting the 34 ft. towers at Ft. Benning. We all learned something about living from Ehrler during his short stay with us, and we anxiously await his return to the "Sunshine State". TERRY RODERICK

WEST POINT CADET

West Point Cadet Patrick Connelly, son of Andrew Connelly C/75, was named to the Dean's List at the United States Military Academy and was awarded the Gold Star award. Cadets with a grade point average of 3.67 or better are awarded the Star. Additionally, Cadet Connelly was given the Superintendent's Award, a gold wreath, for excellence in academics, physical and military training. Only 5 percent of the class is recognized with both the Star and Wreath medals. Cadet Connelly is scheduled to graduate in 1998 and be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army. The association sends its compliments to this outstanding cadet and son of one of our own. Now if a good NCO gets ahold of him after Airborne and Ranger School he may turn out to be the next Regimental Commander.
